

CHARACTERISTICS OF RIOE

It is indispensable to make socio-Economic analysis and multi-disciplinary studies and also to have future prospects as well as technical research and development for the effective use of the ocean. RIOE Covers wide range of ocean development activities on the aspects of science and technology, policy, industrial activities, market research and recent progress in foreign countries, In-house research staff have been working and for all of the member companies and other public and private institutions.